Listing of the Claims:

Claims 1-3 (cancelled)

Claim 4 (new): A handle comprising

a centric chip having a quadrate cross section;

four circumjacent chips, each of which has a curved cross section;

wherein the handle with a round cross section is formed by bonding the centric chip with four circumjacent chips.

Claim 5 (new): The handle as claimed in claim 4, wherein the cross section of each circumjacent chip is comprised of a curved border, a short straight border, and a long straight border, wherein the short straight border with a length shorter than the long straight border is perpendicular to the long straight border, wherein each long straight border is bonded with the centric chip and each short straight border is bonded with the long straight border of the neighboring circumjacent chip at a portion where the long straight border extends from the centric chip.

Claim 6 (new): The handle as claimed in claim 4, wherein the centric chip is formed by bonding two small chips each having a quadrate cross section.
